TrendyStickers launches a range of new products and new website

Copenhagen, Denmark, January 17th, 2011 – Wallstickers have been a resounding success in Scandinavia and the United Kingdom and now TrendyStickers introduces a new range of designer products for your home, along with a new and online storefront.

"We've been looking forward to introducing this new range of products on our website for a long time now. Now, for the first time, we enable our customers to upload their own pictures and have them printed on a high-quality durable canvas – and then [they] can choose a nice frame to go with it. Furthermore we have launched a line of modern designer wallpapers which we also produce in-house." Said Babak Azadali, CEO TrendyStickers.

TrendyStickers has created a user-friendly system where their customers can select any digital image from their computer and then upload it to the TrendyStickers website. Consequently they can edit the picture in a variety of ways, and finally select from a wide range of frames custom-tailored to their picture. TrendyStickers then prints the image on a high-quality canvas and frames it for the customer.

This new product from TrendyStickers enables customers to quickly and easily take any image, such as family pictures, and get them printed in a novel and attractive way. TrendyStickers helps their customers turn their digital memories into permanent physical prints. TrendyStickers can print virtually any image in a wide range of sizes which is automatically calculated based on the original digital image size. This means that if the customers have high-resolution pictures at their disposal, TrendyStickers can print them in very large sizes.

"Wallstickers are quick and easy to apply to your wall, but we started getting a lot of requests from customers for the more customized and personal touch. From this the idea came that we should give our customers the opportunity to provide their own material to us which we would then turn into a high-quality product." Said Babak Azadali, CEO TrendyStickers.

In addition to the new photo print functionality, TrendyStickers now produces modern and stylish designer wallpapers. As with all TrendyStickers products, the new wallpaper range is created using the very best materials available, which guarantees easy and painless application. TrendyStickers wallpaper even ships with free wallpaper glue.

TrendyStickers was founded in early 2008 and has rapidly expanded its selection of stylish wallsticker designs and products. Growth has been enormous throughout the last years and due to the rapid success they are continuously expanding their web presence to more countries in the EU region.
